

ANNIKA

DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

The ANNIKA Foundation aims to develop, empower and advance young women around the world through golf and in life. It is the only Foundation which helps females through golf at every life stage – from young girls to junior to collegiate to young pros and now even to executive women.

The ANNIKA Development Program is uniquely designed to support recent graduates of college golf programs as they transition into professional golf. Each year, four or five eligible candidates are selected through a competitive process that includes a thorough application review and finalist interviews conducted by a selection committee.

Program Benefits

- Access to Old Barnwell and Development Program for 3 years
- Furnished housing in Aiken, SC for at least the first year of program
- $10,000 stipend each year for tournament entry/travel
- Mentorship sessions with Annika
- Access to professional network via members and staff
- Potential to receive additional support from members
- Access to various experts, including fitness, nutrition, mental health, and medical, among others benefits

Meet the Ambassadors

2024 Class

Ami Gianchandani
Yale University

Anna Morgan
Furman University

Anna Zanusso
University of Denver

Caley McGinty
The Ohio State University

Kajsa Arwefjall
San Jose State University

2025 Class

Caitlyn Macnab
University of Mississippi

Carolina Chacarra
Wake Forest University

Hannah Darling
University of South Carolina

Katie Lu
Michigan State University

Louise Rydqvist
University of South Carolina

2026 Class

Emma Bunch
New Mexico State University

Tillie Claggett
Vanderbilt University

Kary Hollenbaugh
Ohio State University

Megan Propeck
University of Florida

Kelly Xu
Stanford University

MORE INFO